Review by Anne Fleming

For the 45 U3A members of the Barcelona Group what an unforgettable evening!

On 17th September 2013 we dined out on a balmy evening under starry skies, enjoying first class food, good service and, most importantly, music provided by singer Joe Altamira with amusing antics by Stefan.

The four course menu had been specially prepared for our group. The price of 18 euros per person included half a bottle of wine, water and a tip.

All diners had pre-selected their choices from a menu of 3 starters and 4 mains. A delicious sorbet was served in between courses and desserts were chosen on the evening. For mains, we chose between Seared breast of chicken with garlic & tomato herb sauce, Baked salmon & wild mushroom Wellington, Pork escalope with mushroom & tarragon sauce, all served with fresh vegetables and potatoes. The vegetarian option was Persian style lentil & aubergine fusion served with saffron rice.

After we had eaten, Joe took requests and soon most of us were dancing the night away.

Pat & Brian Clarke did sterling work in organising this event which certainly went with a swing.
